Tutoring Experience

Over the past 4 years, I've guided students in mastering topics ranging from mechanics to thermodynamics in A-Level and IB Physics. My background includes working with learners from international and local schools, providing tailored lessons to help them excel in coursework and exams.

I've collaborated with academic institutions in South Korea to prepare students for competitive programmes. My experience also includes mentoring university aspirants in physics-related fields, ensuring they understand key concepts and can apply them confidently in problem-solving scenarios.
